

VictimConnect Client Charter

People in every community are safe from violence and interpersonal trauma.

What you can expect from VictimConnect:

- You will be believed
- Safety is most important
- You have a right to receive support
- You have a right to make decisions for yourself
- We will do what we can to help you in a way that is best for you and your family.
- We will clearly explain what we can and cannot do to support you
- You can give us feedback at any time
- We do ask for your information but only as much as we need to support you
- We will keep your information safe
- We have Principles and Values that we will always follow. You can read about them on our website at www.victimconnect.org.au.

VictimConnect recognises you have rights. Many are protected by law, including:

- To live without violence or fear
- To have us support you no matter:
 - where you live
 - what culture you connect with
 - if you have a disability
 - what your gender identity or sexual orientation is
 - what language you speak
- To share your needs and choices with us and have us listen
- To have a safe interpreter or support person
- To receive supports to promote safety and recovery.
- To be able make your own decisions and to be given information to help you make these decisions
- To be able to change your mind
- To stop using our service at anytime
- To have a safe service with qualified and highly trained staff
- To have services work together
- To have your human rights protected
- To have a service that upholds the Charter of Victims' Rights.

Your information rights:

- To know what happens to your information, how we use it and how we keep it safe
- To ask to access your information
- We will not share information without your permission unless we are concerned about safety or need to by law.
- How you can help us to assist you:
- Provide us with the information that we are seeking to support you
- Tell us what you need to be able to use our service or to be safe
- Let us know if you need an interpreter
- Be respectful.

Giving feedback or making a complaint:

There are lots of ways to do this:

- talk to a VictimConnect Practitioner or ask to speak with Team Leader or Manager
- email mail@victimconnect.org.au or call 07 3156 2323
- write to “In Confidence” to the Chief Executive Officer, PO Box 10575 Adelaide Street, Brisbane Queensland 4000
- visit our website at www.victimconnect.org.au for more information.

You can also complain to the Office of the Victims’ Commissioner if you feel we haven’t protected your rights, by:

- using their contact form
- downloading a copy of the complaint form, completing and sending it to GPO Box 149 Brisbane Q 4001 or emailing it to contact@victimcommissioner.qld.gov.au
- phoning them on 1800 714 100 between 8.30am and 4pm.

There are also other external avenues for complaints, such as:

- Office of the Australian Information Commissioner or the Office of the Information Commissioner Queensland (in accordance with our Privacy Policy)
- Queensland Human Rights Commissioner by:
 - phone on 1300 130 670
 - website.
- For complaints related to a service funded by the Queensland Government:
